Starter
Watch the video Please use this text from last week and list all the nouns, adjectives, verbs, adverbs and conjunctions you can find. I'm going to the shops today. My friend Lucy will be going too. She's a lovely girl. She'll get the bus there but I'll go by train. We're going to get some tasty lunch in town. I'm going to bring an umbrella because it's going to rain. We'll be meeting my sister and her friends this afternoon because they're going shopping too. My mum cannot collect us so we'll get the bus home. We'll have to be home at seven o'clock this evening and we'll not be late.

Main Teaching
Watch the video The present tense tells us that something is true at this point. The past tense tells us about something that finished happening in the past (even if less than a minute ago!). It is really important that we recognise the verb in a sentence. To show that something happened in the past the verb changes in a sentence. Usually we add 'ed' to the verb. BUT some verbs are irregular; we don't add 'ed' and the spelling changes.
Present Tense (regular verbs have no suffix or have -s or -es added) Jake plays with his toy cars. I see the tigers. Grandad enjoys watching television.		Past Tense (regular verbs end in the suffix -ed but many irregular verbs do not) The small boy cried. My dog jumped over the fence. We cooked mum a special meal.
Grandpa enjoys watching television. (present tense) Let's rewrite this sentence using the past tense.

Grandpa enjoyed watching television. (past tense)

My dog jumps over the fence. (present tense)

Rewritten in the past tense looks like this:

My dog jumped over the fence. (past tense)

Independent Tasks

Choose Challenge 1, 2 or 3 and then check your answers with the mark scheme. For an extra challenge try Challenge X.

Challenge 1

Add 'ed' to the end of each word to change it into the past tense.

play	walk	jump
talk	pour	listen
look	sprint	change

Now write a sentence for each word.

Remember the 'non-negotiables' – sentences must start with a capital letter and end with a full stop (or question mark or exclamation mark).

e.g. I talked on the phone to my teacher.

Challenge 2

Write these sentences in to the past tense by adding 'ed' to the verb.
Remember, the verb is the 'doing word'.

1. The children play with the football.
2. I walk to school everyday.
3. I jump on the trampoline.
4. I help my mum with the washing up.
5. I change my clothes when I get home from school.
6. The children talk to the teacher.
7. I dance with my friend.
8. I pour the milk on to my cornflakes.

Challenge 3

Please do challenge 2 first, then move on this challenge.

Can you spot the errors in this piece of writing? It is meant to be in the past tense but the writer has made some mistakes. There are 7 mistakes to find! Once you have found them, please write them in your book.

The children look out of the window. What on earth was that? A bizarre flying object was in the sky just above them. They jump up and ran towards the door, hoping to get a better view of the strange object. As they look up they realise it was glowing brightly like a star, but was moving across the sky as fast as a rocket. Was it a flying saucer? They listen carefully, they thought they could hear voices coming from the sky. The whole thing was very mysterious! Tom walk down the path, closer and closer to the thing. He was sure that it was a space ship! He look up again, this time, just in time to see a small green head poking out of one of the windows. 'An alien!' he thought to himself.

Challenge X

In Challenge 3, 'looked' has been used three times. Rewrite these sentences but make them more interesting by using more interesting synonyms (words that still mean 'looked').

1. The children looked out of the window.
2. As they looked up they realised it was glowing brightly like a star.
3. He looked up again just in time to see a small green head poking out of one of the windows.

Review

Look at questions 5 and 7 in Challenge 2. What do you notice that is different to the way the 'ed' suffix is added?

Copy and complete these sentences to explain how to get it right.

To show that something happened in the past, the verb changes in a sentence. Usually we add 'ed' to the verb unless ...

Challenge X

Examples of suitable synonyms for looked: peered, stared, gazed, watched

1. The children peered out of the window.
2. As they stared up they realised it was glowing brightly like a star.
He gazed up again just in time to see a small green head poking out of one of the windows.

Review

Simply adding the 'ed' suffix to verbs ending in 'e' would not work.

For example, changeed and danceed.

To show that something happened in the past, the verb changes in a sentence. Usually we add 'ed' to the verb unless it ends in 'e' then we need to just add the 'd' so that it doesn't like 'seed'.
